

Code of Ethics

University of New Orleans Panhellenic Association

We, the undergraduate women of the Panhellenic Association, seek to build membership in Greek letter organizations based upon high morals, honorable ideas and scholastic achievements through the experiences of sisterhood. While acknowledging the variety of women within the individual chapters, we all work towards a common goal which can only be achieved through mutual respect of each other and all sororities.

To enrich our Greek community, we seek to recruit women who will strengthen our Panhellenic system. To reach this goal we welcome women of all ages, races, religions, and nationalities, furthering the diversity within the sororities. A successful recruitment requires cooperation and respect between individuals and organizations at all times. Only through positive attitudes and actions will we find potential new members who will ignite a stronger Greek community. We promise the potential new members an unbiased and positive experience, without undue pressure, through our promotion of ethical behavior. With this promise we also seek the respect of the potential new members towards the Panhellenic system and its women.

As sorority members we will work towards stronger Panhellenic relations by not taking any unfair advantage to promote our own individual sorority. We shall only speak positively about other sororities during all recruitment events and throughout the year. We believe by abiding by our common purpose and goals we will strengthen the Greek community and Panhellenic system. To this we bind ourselves in an oath of fellowship and goodwill between all Greek organizations at the University of New Orleans.
